

Joey,

There's lots of reasons I can't do "Coupe de Ville". First off, like I told you, I got three plays going into rehearsals here within the next two or three weeks. After that I'm supposed to write something for the Royal Court. Another reason is that I think Michael Butler is a creepy millionaire faggot opportunist who makes his money off hippie slave labor. And besides that I think Broadway sucks dogs & plus I'm tired of plays about Jesus Christ. I guess that sums it up. That don't mean I don't think yer a great guy & all that shit. It's just that I'm hittin' the shadows right now if ya know what I mean. All the best,

Sam
